The one tool you need

As the book industry's leading information warehouse, ipage—Ingram's online search, order, and manage site—gives you the most comprehensive bibliographic data anywhere. It allows you to manage your account and product orders, as well as gives you access to the latest industry news, bestseller lists, awards, author tours, and book publicity. That's what makes ipage the one tool you need. Let the power of ipage work for you!

Create the perfect product mix.

Conduct fast searches by ISBN, title, author, or keyword by using ipage's Simple Search bar.

Enjoy dynamic, immediately accessible options to manipulate your search results. On the left side of your search-results page, select from a host of criteria (price, age group, binding, language, and much more) to further refine your results.

Click the Stock Availability Check button to find out the latest inventory information on items in your selection list or quick order cart. This feature lets you know the total number of immediately shippable items in your order before you place it.

Manage your account online.

- View purchase orders.
- Track shipments.
- Print invoices.
- Create returns.
- Pay by Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT).

Which ipage is right for you?

All these features are available to you at no cost as the basic subscription level of ipage is free! For those wanting more from ipage (including cover images, the ability to search by category or theme, access to the extended titles database, or Power Search functionality), Ingram offers pay subscription levels of ipage.

To subscribe to ipage or to learn more, call (800) 937-7978, or e-mail ics-admin@ingrambook.com. When e-mailing Ingram, always be sure to include your account number.
